

Snowmass Chapel
something kinda different

August 23rd

Ask: How did you praise God this week?

Did you see anyone using their blessings to bless others?

Pray: Thank God for opportunities to offer praise and experience joy, and for all the ways in which we are blessed.

Read: Romans 12:1-8

I appeal to you therefore, brothers and sisters, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship. Do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your minds, so that you may discern what is the will of God--what is good and acceptable and perfect. For by the grace given to me I say to everyone among you not to think of yourself more highly than you ought to think, but to think with sober judgment, each according to the measure of faith that God has assigned. For as in one body we have many members, and not all the members have the same function, so we, who are many, are one body in Christ, and individually we are members one of another. We have gifts that differ according to the grace given to us: prophecy, in proportion to faith; ministry, in ministering; the teacher, in teaching; the exhorter, in exhortation; the giver, in generosity; the leader, in diligence; the compassionate, in cheerfulness.

Ask: What does it mean to “be conformed to this world”?

What does it mean to “be transformed by the renewing of your minds”?

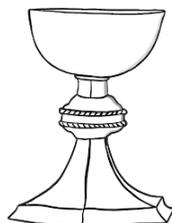

What does it mean to “discern what is the will of God”?

Ask: When you think about the different roles we play as parts of the body of Christ, what does that mean to you?

How is your role different to the roles of other members in your family?

What are your gifts? Why is it important for people to have different gifts from one another?

Pray: Ask God to help us identify and use our gifts in the way God designed them to be used.
